

Isaac:

I used AI to help me check and replace missing values in the dataset. I verified the code worked by checking specific values before and after changing the values.

I got help with the setup for the logistic regression and forest model, specifically the parameters and syntax. The output was verified by having the models running properly without errors.